Yeh they're much the same as the ASZ, they just do little things like use different injectors and of course they have a different sump like yours due to the way the engine sits. Good engines though. The PD150 head bolts are stronger than the others so can help hold the head down better, it's a good option when running higher boost but should ...

I'm running an ASZ with a GTB2260VK, and it is FAR better than a hybrid unit. Yes, it's laggier (The "kick" is 500RPM later), but the pay off is WELL worth it. With a Hybrid 17, you can have a lot more torque bottom end due to faster spool rates, but it is at its limit at 220-230bhp.....Which is good for 80% of the market.
